Ashley Atkinson
A Frankfort woman has been arrested after falsely accusing two men of rape, according to the Kentucky State Police.

Ashley Atkinson, 19, was arrested Tuesday for falsely reporting an incident. She is being held at the Franklin County Regional Jail on $2,000 full cash bond.

State troopers responded to a report of a sexual assault at 1:45 a.m. Tuesday. Atkinson told the troopers she had been raped by two men.

During the investigation she confessed that she was lying, according to a release.

If convicted, Atkinson faces up to 12 months in jail.

what does the Topix world think about it?

Report Abuse, Judge it!
Mount Sherman, KY | She probably got "caught" with these men and cried rape to save herself. I can't stand women who could do such things. Even though it has come out that she was lying, these 2 men have already been accused of rape and in this world, sometimes that's all it takes. We don't need proof, just suspicion.

<td>She really should get serious time for that crap. Look at Herman May for example poor fellow did 14 years of HARD TIME before the innocent project proved he was innocent.</td>
